An Easy and Enjoyable Process

The implementation process starts with one form that generally takes less than two hours to complete. This data is easy for the library staff to obtain and can often be done by one person.

Our professional services team then takes over to activate Rialto based on your library's needs, leveraging existing Alma configurations. No further work is needed by the library until Rialto is ready for initial ordering in less than two weeks.

This focused attention creates a smooth implementation and adoption experience for the library, which many find enjoyable.
